Another Illusion Gone.

The London Pall Mall Gazette says: Incidentally—though never more than incidentally—Mr. Phillippus-Woolley ("Sport in the Crimea and Caucasus") tells a good deal that is interesting about life in the Caucasus and about the queer people he met there. The beautiful Georgian ladies of romance he dissipates as mere myths; neither at Tiflis nor in Daghestan, nor elsewhere, did he see in any case a single face sufficiently beautiful to attract a second glance in London. A few of the women had good features, but even these were devoid of expression and so animal in appearance as fairly to justify the Turkish belief in their soulless condition. Of course, one would reasonably expect as much; still, it is always sad to feel that one more cherished belief has been rudely shattered before one's face. Living in rough forest huts with peasants or woodmen, Mr. Phillippus-Woolley had many glimpses of the internal economy of Cossacks and Circassians, and his account of his stay at Golovinsky, where he had lodged in a telegraph shanty, surrounded by utter wilderness, is one of the most amusing parts of his book. Black bread and pork fat were the only available foodstuffs, and when good luck brought in a bear or two the bear must clearly have been spoiled in the cooking, and our author (who is not by any means given to quarreling with his food) complains that they tasted like "boiled black whipcord." We have never tried whipcord, but can testify from experience that good bear's ham, properly treated, is a real luxury. Of Tiflis, which represents the civilization of the isthmus, we get a very bright and readable description. The town is thoroughly Oriental in character, filled with Tartars, Georgians, and Persians in their national costumes, and but little marred as yet by European houses or the tall hat of the boulevard propriety. The long strings of soft-footed camels, laden with high bales and crossing the moonlit bridges on the first night Mr. Phillippus-Woolley spent in the town, gave a very Eastern tinge to the scene. Even here, however, the picturesqueness of local costume is doomed, for a German colony is established on the spot, the railway from Poti brings Paris fashions in its train, and new villas of the Western type are fast springing up among the Asiatic architecture of the town.

ARCHAEOLOGICAL researches have shown indisputably that the art of weaving was practiced in prehistoric times. It may even date back nearly to the creation of man, as fragments of woven cloth have been found among the relics of the Lake Dwellers, who are supposed to have been about the first representatives of the human race. The Bronze Age furnishes specimens which place the art above most others in degree of perfection, even fabrics of wool being found in the remains of Denmark, Scandinavia, and England—the remains of France and Switzerland yielding linen fabrics. The oldest historical reference to the art of weaving is furnished by the Bible. Job lamented that his days were passing with the fleetness of a weaver's shuttle; and Joseph was attired in "vestures of fine linen."

Courtesies.

An eccentric man of Columbus, Ohio, visited New York, went to church and seated himself in the nearest pew. Soon the owner came in, eyed the stranger critically, and then, writing "My pew" upon the fly-leaf of a prayer-book, handed the book to the intruder. The Ohio man read the message, smiled a beautiful smile, and wrote underneath: "Nice pew; what did you pay for it?" He kept his seat and after service dined with the pew-owner.

THE WORKSHOP.

ONE cubic foot of pure water, at 62° F., weighs 62,355 pounds; at 212° F., only 59,640 pounds. A cylindrical foot of water at 62° F. weighs 48,973 pounds. One ton of water is 35.90 cubic feet.

A good rivet, cold, should bend double without breaking. The head should flatten out, when hammered hot, to one-eighth-inch thick without fraying at the edge, or breaking. Boiler plates should be caulked with a convex tool.

DARK red color indicates about 700° Cent., equals 1292° Fa.; cherry red, 1652° F.; white heat, 2372° F. Air at constant pressure expands 1.461 of its volume for each degree F. above zero. Average comparative specific heat of ice, 0.504; of water, 1; of gaseous steam, 0.622.

SOLDERING cast iron, says the Engineer, is generally considered to be very difficult, but it seems to be only a question of thoroughly making bright the surface to be soldered, and using good solder and a clean swab with muriatic acid. Sodium amalgam might be usefully employed for the purpose.

IT CANNOT be too much insisted upon that all chains of cranes or those used for other purposes should be regularly and periodically inspected. As all chains are liable to become brittle by use, they should be annealed once a year, by heating them in a furnace uniformly to a dull red heat, and then allowing them to cool very slowly.

THE origin of engraved copper plates is said to have been as follows: A goldsmith of Florence, cutting figures on his works, perceived that what came out of the mould had on it all the impression of the engravings, by means of the black which the sulphur extracted from the cuttings; and trying to do the like on silver plates, with moistened paper, going over it with a smooth roller, it succeeded to his wish.

RE-HEATING and rolling down or forging down wrought iron bars reduce their elongation and increase their tensile strength. The skin of wrought iron is not the strongest portion. Cold rolling increases the strength of wrought iron. Tensile strength of wrought iron averages ten per cent. more with the fiber than across it. Compressing melted steel with a pressure of about six tons per square inch increases its strength.

IN AMERICA, at least, there need be no solicitude regarding the sufficiency of our coal fields for any possible demands to be made upon them for centuries to come. Of bituminous coal alone we have an estimated reserve of 60,000,000,000 tons, more than all the rest of the world possesses, and enough to last, even if applied to all its present uses, anywhere from 500 to 1,000 years. Long before it has all been mined, other sources of heat and power will have superseded it in many of its most important relations to human life and labor.

The Pope as a Farmer.

How many people are there, asks Land, who know that the Pope is a farmer? Such is the fact, however, and there is reason to believe that his Holiness makes a very good thing of it. Leo XIII. is, however, neither a grower of cereals nor a raiser of stock, but a breeder of fish. The lagoons of Comacchio are thus turned to profitable use. Eels are the staple food and several tons of cooked eels are sent from the lagoons every Lent. The fish come up in immense shoals from the Adriatic and are fed in the lagoons on other fish provided for them until they are nicely fattened, when they are killed and cooked in a vast kitchen.

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

WEDNESDAY EVE., SEPT. 13, 1882.

TERMS:—The EVENING BULLETIN is published daily, and served free of postage at 6 cents per week; 25 cents per month; 75 cents per three months; $1.50 per six months, and $3 per year, payable in advance.

THE EVENING BULLETIN HAS A LARGER CIRCULATION IN THIS CITY, CHESTER AND ABERDEEN, OHIO, THAN ANY OTHER PAPER PUBLISHED IN MAYSVILLE.

The total number of cases on the dockets of the Court of Appeals and Superior Court is 534. Of these the first named court will act on 259 and the latter on 275.

In 1880 the the vote of this Congressional District was cast as follows:

Democrat.....	14,689
Republican.....	11,688
Greenback.....	1,675

A JUDGE at Montreal, Canada, has decided that debts for margins on stocks of all kinds are the same as gambling obligations, and dismissed a suit instituted to recover a claim of that character.

The law requiring dealers in playing cards to pay a tax of twenty-five cents a pack has been repealed and instead they will hereafter be required to procure a license which costs five dollars a year.

They have some accomplished thieves in Philadelphia. The managers of the almshouse there recently stole the copper roof off the building valued at $7,000. They would have made good Star Routers.

The man the Republicans selected at Catlettsburg on Tuesday to be beaten by Col. Hurt for Congress, is W. W. Culbertson, of Ashland. The material they put into the field indicates an abandonment of the fight.

The new postal money order bill promises to be a measure of real convenience to the public. Orders for a sum less than $5 will cost three cents, and the service is extended so as to raise the limit of orders from $50 to $100.

MAINE was carried on Monday by the Republicans. Rofie, their candidate for Governor, was elected by an increased majority. Dingley and Reed were re-elected to Congress and the Legislature will be largely republican.

Courier-Journal: Our beautiful system of tariff "protects American labor" by adding to the workingman's wages, in some instances, twenty per cent. and increasing the cost of his living, in all cases, eighty per cent. This is the whole matter in a sentence.

The jury in the Star Route case rendered its verdict Monday. It acquitted Turner, the clerk in Brady's office, as to whom the prosecution was some time since abandoned, and Peck, the contractor, who is dead. It convicted Rerdel, formerly the private secretary of ex-Senator Dorsey, and John B. Miner, formerly of Sandusky, Ohio, one of the ring contractors. As to Brady, Stephen W. Dorsey and Henry M. Vaile, the jury disagreed.

A TELEGRAM from London in relation to the crops of the world says that Spain is the only country from which reports are unfavorable. Summarizing the result the Times says: "Never during the time since these reports were collected has the harvest in the Northern Hemisphere been so good all around. We usually had to report a deficiency either in Europe or America. This year there is absolutely none. The world has over an average harvest, and with such a harvest the year is likely to be one of cheap abundance."

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen are holding their tenth annual convention in Terre Haute, Ind.

A Chicago man named Lloyd, whose wife supposed him dead thirty years since, returned to his family Monday.

A planing and flouring mill owned by Miller and Henderson, near Pomeroy, was burned. Loss $6,000.

Amanda A. Gross, of Akron, O., wants $5,000 damages from John L. Chapman, of Hundson, for breach of promise of marriage.

Capt. John E. Hatcher, late Chief of Police of Danville, Va., shot by Major Johnston on the 9th instant, died Monday.

The Lexington fall running meeting was opened on Monday. The winners were John Henry, Monarch and Miss Woodford.

A section of the surface of the Calumet and Hecla copper mine, Michigan, gave way, entailing a heavy loss. No loss of life.

A vein of red iron ore has been discovered near Kelsey, Mich. The discovery is regarded as the most important in the history of the state.

A grand council has been summoned to deliberate upon the relation of Turkey with England after the issue of the proclamation against Arabi Pasha.

At Aurora, Ill., Monday, a jury returned a verdict of ninety-nine years in the Penitentiary against Sam. Hazell, who brutally murdered his five-year-old child.

New York City was visited by a wind storm on Monday, that flooded many cellars and did much damage to the provision merchants in the lower part of the city.

James E. Lair, of Atlanta, Ga., was arrested at Baltimore, Md., on the charge of obtaining a horse, saddle and bridle on forged checks on the firm J. E. Laird & Co., of Atlanta.

Carl Heeming, a jeweler of Denver, Colorado, lost twelve dollars' worth of gold dust which he was refining, by the breaking of the vessel containing it. He took poison and died.

Arthur Brooks, a prominent stock broker, of Richmond, Ind., was arrested at Denver, Col., for the murder of Dr. Thos. D. Gause, at Richmond, August 29. He confess.

A party of Bedouins made a bold attack on the British fortifications at Fort Meke. They were finally dislodged by the British soldiers at the point of bayonet, leaving many killed.

Acting Secretary of State Davis says the Stephen Meany is conducting its war against the British lion solely on its own responsibility. So far the United States is not even an ally.

It is untrue that Lord Dufferin is finding fault with the proclamation against Arabi Pasha and with the Military Convention, after having obtained the benefit of the former documents.

During the celebration of the Children's Mass at St. Thomas Church, on Sycamore street, Cincinnati, the cry of fire was heard and a serious panic ensued among the fifteen hundred children present. Several were injured, but none of them seriously.

Careful inquiry among the Irish Nationalists in Paris is said to lend color to the rumor to the effect that certain leading members of the Land League are in direct communication with Arabi Pasha, with the view of arranging for the enlistment of a number of Irish officers in the service of the Egyptian insurgents.

THE STAR ROUTE CASE

A Bribe Juror Flees From the Scene of his Disgrace.

WASHINGTON, September 12.—Foreman Dickson will publish a card to-morrow, giving a list of the ballots, and stating that he was offered $25,000 by an agent of the Department of Justice to secure the conviction of Brady or Dorsey. He also heard of several offers of small amounts to different jurors by the defense. The prosecution claim the alleged approaches to Dickson are part of a clever scheme to cover up the operations of the defense. Miner and Rerdel say they were convicted because they were poor, and the other defendants deserted them to save themselves.

Brown, one of the colored jurors, has fled.

PERSONALS.

Points About People Here and Elsewhere.

Capt. J. A. Jackson, of Mayslick, passed through Maysville, Tuesday, on his return from a trip east.

Mrs. W. O. Giani, of Newport, Ky., is visiting her father Mr. H. Nicholson.

Miss Ida Nicholson has returned home after a pleasant visit to her sister, at Newport.

Written for the DAILY BULLETIN. UNSANCTIFIED STILL.

"Behold I lay in Zion a stumbling stone and a rock of scandal." "I seek not mine own glory, there is one that seeketh and judgeth." "If we say we have no sin, the truth is not in us."

Tho' God within our souls may dwell,
And angels hover o'er us.
The rugged path is still the same.
The same pitfalls before us;
Tho' in our hearts a constant prayer,
Keeps time to each pulsation,
Mankind has sinned since Eve the fair,
Spilled God's first pure creation.

Here in the busy marts of life,
Out on the dusty highways,
Mid death and sickness, toil and strife.
And in the shady by-ways,
Where purest flowers ever bloom,
Temptations always follow,
And will, till for the silent tomb,
We leave this world so hollow.

Tho' we may give ourselves to God,
To work for him and Heaven,
How oft we need the chast'ning rod.
And, oh, how oft 'tis given.
For sin is rampant in the land,
And he, whose soul is lonely.
Will never in the temple stand,
Saying: "Behold, I'm holy."

But like the Publican of old,
With humble, contrite spirit,
Striking his breast, he cries: "Behold,
Oh, Lord, I have no merit.
Be merciful, oh, then, to me,
And save me from my sinning."
And this thro' life his prayer must be,
As in its first beginning.

Their daily walks our busy street,
Intent on honest labor,
(Scarce looking on a face he meets—
As tho' he dwelt on labor.)
A man of toll and lowly birth,
His only wisdom given
By God,—who sends to some on earth
A little glimpse of heaven.

"A very salut'!" I've heard men say,
Their every word believing;
How he would grieve, and silent pray,
At thought of thus deceiving!
God, only, knows His sanctified,—
They are not men's choosing;
Presuming holiness, in pride,
Is God's best gifts abusing.

NEW Dress Goods at Hunt & Doyle's.

CHIEF of Police Lee, of Frankfort, was shot and mortally wounded on Monday by a young man named Egbert. The ball that struck the officer was intended for one Seearce, an ex-convict.

As expected Brady, Dorsey and the other prominent members of the Star Route gang have escaped. In this country it is impossible to convict a thief of wealth and influence. The punishment is always meted out, as in this case, to the poor and friendless ones.

New Cloakings at Hunt & Doyle's.

It is estimated that the postoffice department will have at the end of the year a surplus of over a million dollars, and yet it was deemed advisable that congress should not reduce the rate of postage.

CORALINE Corsets at Hunt & Doyle's.

THERE was considerable excitement in the Chicago produce market on Monday. Pork went back seventy-five cents a barrel; corn dropped three and a half cents while wheat was comparatively firm declining only one-half cent.

Tribute of Respect.

Resolved, Whereas, in the providence of God, our associate and teacher, Miss Lottie Mefford, has been detained from among us by the sickness and now by the death of her sister, Miss Sadie Mefford, that we, both teacher and pupils of the Washington school do tender our sympathy to her and her afflicted family.

THE interior finish of Mr. Charles H. White's new stores on Second street, the work of Mr. G. W. Williams, is exceedingly handsome and artistic, and reflects very creditably upon Mr. Williams' good taste and skill as a mechanic. These stores, three in number, will be very desirable business locations, and as attractive in every respect as any in the city.

New Cattle Disease.

SLACK'S P. O., Sept. 42, 1882.

ED. BULLETIN.—A disease has appeared among my cattle, of which I have no knowledge, nor a remedy. It affects their front feet and legs. The latter swell to double their usual size and get very stiff, and behind the knee the skin cracks open. I have never seen nor heard of such a disease. If any readers of the BULLETIN know of a remedy for it they will confer a great favor by letting it be known through the columns of your valuable paper.

General Walseley's official account of Saturday's engagement near Kassassin, reports that the Egyptian troops were forced back to within two and a half miles of Tel-el Kebir, and concluded by saying that, had the English troops been reinforced, they could, in his opinion, have taken possession of at least the first line of intrenchments.

COUNTY POINTS.

WASHINGTON.

The old courthouse looks quite well after being fixed up.

Thomas M. Downing has lost another child with diphtheria, his oldest son.

Miss Emma Goggin has returned home from Esculapia.

Judging from the number of tobacco barns being built in this neighborhood the tobacco crop must be very large—there are from fifteen to twenty.

Our efficient constable, G. C. Goggin, had his first case to-day. He will make the boys stand around.

Mrs. H. D. Knight spent last week in Fleming county, leaving Dorsey an old bachelor.

A large concourse of people attended the funeral of Miss Sadie Mefford here on Sunday.

Charles Marshall, Esq., and Mr. Ambler, his son-in-law, spent a few days this week with the Hon. M. P. Marshall.

An old negro who ran away from here forty-three years ago, belonging to Mrs. Annie Henry, was back to see her yesterday. He is a Methodist divine now.

HEATHCOTE.

BEECH GROVE.

The weather has been Ven-nor-able cold for several days past.

Improvements are still going on this neighborhood.

Several of our farmers have commenced cutting their tobacco.

Apples are abundant, but peaches are rather scarce in our vicinity.

Some of our people contemplate taking in the Cincinnati Exposition next week.

Mr. H. M. Pepper is having a large tobacco barn erected on his farm.

We had a slight but a very refreshing shower Thursday night.

We hear of one crop of tobacco selling for eighteen cents all round in the patch.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Galbraith, and Mr. Jerry Jett and wife, are visiting in Bourbon county.

George W. Jett, of Bridgeville, left on Friday, for Lebanon, O., where he will attend the Normal School at that place.

A protracted meeting is now in progress at the M. E. Church at Salem, being conducted by Rev. H. C. Northcott. No accessions to the church thus far.

Mammoth Cave.

One's general idea of a cave is that of an open space under ground, or in a mountain side. Mammoth Cave is made up of passages, avenues and tortuous crooks rather than of vast open spaces. You can take the short route (seven miles), to be done in two hours, the long (sixteen miles), to be done in four, or the combined, to be done in from five to twelve or more. We chose the combined. There are avenues down which one could drive a coach and four if fairly cleared up on the floor. There are places that are mere cracks, justly named "fat man's misery," "tall man's abasement," and "corkscrews." Here is the River Styx, Lake Lethe and Echo River, running under an arch so low that a little rise in the water renders passage impossible. Sometimes it rises unexpectedly and leaves parties in the dark beyond the arches unable to return till the water subsides. I saw the eyeless fish of these dark rivers; their principle use in this world being to serve Dr. Bushnell for an illustration in his sermon on "the extirpation of unused faculties."

Here and there amid these long passages are open spaces called "domes," where the water-carved rock rises ninety, or a hundred, or a hundred and thirty feet from the floor. When these places are lighted up by the brilliant Bengal lights they are both weird and grand. The variety of formations in the cave surpasses anything I have ever witnessed. In most caves the stalactite and stalagmite systems are easily understood, but the lower ends are delicately grooved in various directions, by what process it is impossible to imagine. Intermingled with these ham-like figures are variously-sized gutters, as delicately cut as those of the Greeks on the Parthenon.

In some parts of the cave the gypsum has crystallized into snow-balls that glitter over the whole roof; in other places there are delicate flowers, some eight inches in diameter. The stalactite pillars are comparatively few, but exceedingly curious. In one place half a dozen form a kind of bower in which four couples have been married. The first bride had promised her mother, not to be married while she lived on earth. A very foolish promise, and this was her way to keep it, and also get married.—Bishop Warren.

Kendall's Spavin Cure.

The Most Successful Remedy ever discovered, as it is certain its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER.

Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District. ST. ALBANS, VT., Jan., 20, 1880. DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ringbone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found. Respectfully yours, P. N. GRANGER.

Perseverance Will Tell.

STROUGHTON, MASS., March 16, 1880. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me it will be very great.

Respectfully yours, CHAS. E. PARKER. KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE issues in its effects, mild in its action as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach a very deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, any lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild, and yet certain in its effects.

Send address for Illustrated Circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success to our knowledge, for beast as well as man.

Price $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. ALL DRUGGISTS have it or can get it for you or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors. DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO. Enosburgh Falls, Vermont. J27d.
